What are the different types of solar inverters?

String inverters are the most commonly used types of solar inverters. They are widely installed in Pakistan, especially in the domestic sector due to their high compatibility with the climate. Each type, including string inverters, has been especially designed with different working mechanisms to cater to the needs of the respective solar system.

How does a solar inverter function?

A solar inverter is attached to the PV system where solar energy is sent and later transformed into useful, compatible alternating current (AC). This process is essential for powering homes and businesses with solar energy. With inverters, it is possible to send back the excessive amount of electricity into the grid and earn electricity units.
