There's also the perennial question of whether the last day ends on the multiple of 24 hours from the time when the deadline was given, if it means midnight of that day, or closing time of that ...

Within is regarded as specifying an upper limit: within two days means maybe today, maybe tomorrow, but no later than two days from now. In is sometimes regarded as more ...

0 Today is Monday. Last week is strictly the period of seven days ending at midnight on Sunday and the last two weeks is strictly the period of fourteen days ending at midnight on ...

Would you think "the next 10 days" includes today? If not, would there be a clearer way to put it, to refer to today and the following 9 days?

It is a bit ambiguous but, given that the system would not allow you to complete the form 12 days before your planned arrival, the 7 day period is obviously a maximum rather than ...

Base44 gave me the control I needed, even for a project as specific and detailed as a VTT. If you're looking for a no-code/low-code solution to build powerful apps -- especially game ...

I would read the first as referring to a deadline, the second referring to a total accumulation of days spent. For example, "This project must be finished within 30 days" is ...

@anishsharma @fmerian If you are triangulating LLMs in an IDE to produce your product, you are not a developer or coder, you are an AI architect. An orchestrator. Which is ...

What's great It's hard to stand out in this space, but Supercut certainly does. It's beautifully crafted, simple and highly effective. I've been using Supercut since the first release and it's ...

The most natural thing to do would be to take them in the order specified. So first go a month from today, and then go 10 days. This goes to March 30th. As a general ...

I often use Google hit counts as a rough measure of how valid an expression is. In the case of "no later than" vs "not later than", Google finds 25 vs 12 million hits, indicating ...
